Historical Note: Boyd Senter (1898-1982) was a professional musician having played with Jimmy Dorsey, Glenn Miller and Freddie Fisher. He played over 33 different instruments. He retired to Mio, Michigan where he divided his time between repairing high school band instruments and running a sporting goods shop, where he tied and sold his own flies. He established himself as an accomplished fly tied and fisherman. In 1959 he designed 4 flies honoring different models of Fords: the Falcon, Fairlane, Galaxie and the Thunderbird
