

Tom Deschaine

Tom is a retired high school science teacher, living in Westland, Michigan. He's been a hunter, fisherman and outdoorsman his entire life. He is a fly tier and custom rod builder.

Over the years, his flies and tying tips have appeared in such magazines as American Angler, Fly Tyer, Fly Fish America, Flyfishing & Tying Jornal and Trout Fisherman, as well as many internet sites. He fishes with, and ties only dry flies, and has a special interest in old flies of Michigan origin. Tom is the proprietor of this web site.
